THE TABLE.

1. Bull of Pope Nicolas V. obtained by William Turnbull, Bishop of Glasgow, issued at the suit of James II. King of Scots, erecting a "studium generale" in the city of Glasgow, as well for theology, canon and civil laws, as for arts and any other lawful faculty; conferring on the Doctors, Masters, and Students, all privileges, honours, and immunities enjoyed by the University of the Pope's city of Bologna; bestowing on the Bishops of Glasgow the office and jurisdiction of Chancellor, with the right, after due examination, of conferring degrees and making Licentiates; and granting to all persons so graduated or licensed full liberty of reading and teaching, as well in the University of Glasgow, as in all other Universities, without any farther examination or trial. 7 January 1451. p. 3.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, pp. 1, 2; collated with the Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis, No. 361, pp. 385—387, which is printed from a collation of the Registrum Vetus Ecclesie Cathedralis Glasguensis, fol. 69, and the Liber Ruber Ecclesie Glasguensis, fol. 160. A copy in a hand of the seventeenth century is in the University archives, and is entered as No. 485, of Blackhouse's Inventory, pp. 1—3.

The date is written vii° Kal. Januarii in the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris; and vii° Yd. Januarij in the Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis. The latter is undoubtedly the true reading.

The original bull is not known to be now extant. On the 28th August 1690, the Principal, Dr. James Fall, stated to the Parliamentary Commissioners of Visitation, that the original bull of foundation was carried abroad to the Scots College of Paris, at the Reformation; and that he himself saw it there, together with the charters granted to the University by King James II., King James III., King James IV., King James V., Mary Queen Dowager and Regent, and Queen Mary. [MS. volume in the University archives, described as No. 25 of the Clerk's Press, p. 34.] But the learned Mr Thomas Innes and the Superiors of the Scots College at Paris, in reply to the inquiries of the University of Glasgow, in the year 1738, assured that body, that "the original records of the foundation of the University" were not then to be found, and urged reasons for believing that Archbishop Bethune could not have brought the muniments of the University to Paris. [Miscellany of the Spalding Club, vol. ii. pp. 367, 371, 374.]

2. Letter under the great seal, by James II. King of Scots, obtained by William Turnbull, Bishop of Glasgow, granting the King's firm peace and protection to the Rectors, Deans of Faculties, Procurators of Nations, Regents, Masters, and Scholars of his well beloved daughter the University of Glasgow; and exempting the same Rectors, Deans, Procurators, Regents, Masters, Beadles, Scribes, Stationers, Parchment-sellers, and resident Scholars, Prelates only excepted, from all manner of taxes, duties, watch and ward, exigible within the King's realm. 20 April 1453. p. 6.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, pp. 2, 3; collated with the Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis, No. 374, pp. 396, 397, which is printed from the Registrum Vetus Ecclesie Cathedralis Glasguensis, fol. 77. This Letter is engrossed at length in the Letter of Confirmation by King James III. No. 13, pp. 25, 26, of this volume. A copy in the hand of the seventeenth century is in the University archives, and is entered as No. 485, of Blackhouse's Inventory, p. 3. As to the fate of the original, see above, in the note on No. 1.

3. Privileges granted to the Rector, Doctors, Masters, and other Supposts of the University of Glasgow, to their Beadles, Esquires, Domestics and Servants, and to their Scriveners, Stationers, and Parchment-sellers, with their wives, children, and handmaidens, by William Turnbull, Bishop of Glasgow, with consent of his Chapter. 1 December 1453. p. 7.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, pp. 3—5; collated with the Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis, No. 375, pp. 397—399, which is printed from the Registrum Vetus Ecclesie Cathedralis Glasguensis, fol. 78. The grant is engrossed at length in the Confirmation by James Archbishop of Glasgow, 30 October 1628, No. 140, pp. 227, 228, of this work. A copy in the hand of the seventeenth century is in the University archives, and entered as No. 485, of Blackhouse's Inventory, pp. 4—6.

4. Charter by James the first Lord Hamilton, granting to Master Duncan Bunch, Principal Regent in the Faculty of Arts of the University of Glasgow, and his successors, a tenement lying on the east side of the High Street, between the Convent of the Friars Preachers on the south, and the land of Sir Thomas Arthurle Chaplain on the north, together with four acres of land on the Dovehill, beside the Malyndonore Burn; under condition that twice in every day, at the close of their noontide and evening meals, the Regents and Students shall rise and pray for the souls of the Lord of Hamilton, the founder of the College, of the Lady Euphame Countess of Douglas and Lady of Bothwell his wife, and of their ancestors, heirs, and successors; that every Regent and Student in priest's orders, shall in their masses openly commend the souls of James Lord Hamilton and Euphame his wife, the founders of the College, to the prayers of the bystanders; that if a chapel or oratory shall be built in the College, the Regents and Students shall assemble there on every Saturday after Vespers, and shall on their bended knees sing the anthem of the blessed Virgin, Ave Gloriosa Virginum Regina, with a collect and remembrance for the souls of the founders of the College; that, until such chapel or oratory be built, the aforesaid anthem and remembrance shall be repeated "submissa voce" before an altar in the Church of the Friars Preachers; that every year on the day of the death of the Lord of Hamilton, and on the day of the death of the Lady Euphame his wife, the founders of the College, the Regents and Students shall repair to the Cathedral Church, where every Regent in priest's orders shall say mass for the dead, and every Regent not in priest's orders shall read the non-sacrificial office for the departed, and all the Students shall make orisons for the souls of the founders; and, lastly, that every Regent shall give faithful counsel in the affairs of the founders and their successors, so often as he shall be asked. 6 January 1460. p. 9.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Decani Facultatis Artium, pp. 102, 103.

5. Andrew Bishop of Glasgow, by his procurator, resigns all claim to the tenement and four acres of land conveyed by Lord Hamilton's Charter, No. 4, into the hands of one of the Bailies of the Burgh of Glasgow, who gives seisin of the same to James Lord Hamilton. The Lord Hamilton, by his procurator, resigns the tenement and land into the hands of the Bailie, who thereupon gives seisin of the same to Master Duncan Bunche, Vicar of Wiston, Principal Regent of the Faculty of Arts, in name of the said Faculty. 13 January 1460. p. 12.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Decani Facultatis Artium, pp. 105—107; collated with another copy in the same record, pp. 108, 109.

6. Letter by the Prior and Convent of the Preaching Friars of Glasgow of the order of Saint Dominic, declaring that although Sir Gavin of Hamilton, Provost of the Collegiate Church of Bothwell, has granted to them a charter of his tenement in Glasgow, and four acres of land on the Dowhill, [being the same afterwards conveyed in Lord Hamilton's charter, No. 4,] yet the said Sir Gavin, his airs and assigns, shall have full right of retaking the same into their own proper possession and heritage whensoever they please. 1 February 1455. p. 14.

7. Sir James of Hamilton Knight, Lord of Hamilton, grants to Master David Cadyhow, Precentor of the Cathedral Church of Glasgow, the Chapel of Saint Thomas of Canterbury Archbishop Martyr, in the city of Glasgow, vacant by the demise of Master David of Hamilton. 22 August 1449. p. 15.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Decani Facultatis Artium, pp. 103, 104. This grant appears to have been made for the behoof of the University or College, in whose possession the Chapel and its Cemetery were found in the following century. See No. 52, p. 93, where reference is made to writs not known now to exist.

As to Saint Thomas' Chapel, which stood in the street called of old Saint Thenaw's Gate, and now known as the Trongate, reference may be made to the Liber Collegii Nostre Domine Glasguensis, pref. p. xxxiii. note. In the year 1320, Walter Fitz-Gilbert, the progenitor of the house of Hamilton, made an indenture with the Chapter of the Cathedral of Glasgow, by which he gave a suit of vestments to the Chantry of Saint Mary the Virgin in the Crypt, under condition that they should be lent four times yearly for service in the Chapel of Saint Thomas the Martyr at Glasgow, namely, on the feast of his commemoration at Christmas, and on the feast of his translation in July. [Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis, No. 267, pp. 227, 228].

8. Grant by Andrew Bishop of Glasgow, with consent of his Chapter, to the Rector of the University, of full jurisdiction in all causes and quarrels between the Supposts of the University, or between the same Supposts and the Burgesses and other subjects of the Bishop; and also of the first place after the Bishop, before all the Prelates of the diocese, in synods, processions, and other solemn occasions of whatever kind. 1 July 1461. p. 16.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, p. 5. A copy in a hand of the seventeenth century is in the University archives, and is entered as No 485, of Blackhouse's Inventory, p. 6.

9. Bequest by David of Cadyow, Canon of Glasgow and Rector of the University, of twelve merks yearly to a Clerk in the Faculty of Canon Law, reading in the public schools within the city of Glasgow, as use is in other Universities; which Clerk shall celebrate, or cause to be celebrated, a daily mass for the soul of the donor at the altar of the Blessed Virgin, in the Crypt of the Cathedral; the presentation of the Clerk belonging to the Rector of the University and his four deputes, the collation, admission, and institution being with the Lord Bishop of Glasgow, Chancellor of the University. 2 March 1463. p. 17.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, p. 9. A copy in the hand of the seventeenth century is in the University archives, and entered as No. 485, of Blackhouse's Inventory, pp. 17, 18.

10. Sir Thomas of Arthurle, Chaplain, by the hands of John Stewart, first Provost of the city of Glasgow, gives seisin to the Faculty of Arts of the University of a tenement or mansion on the east side of the High Street, lying between the College of the Faculty of Arts on the south, and the land of John Carnys smith on the north, with a tail of land stretching to the Malyndenor Burn; but reserving the free use of the tenement to the donor during his lifetime, and after his decease to Master William of Arthurle, Regent in the Faculty of Arts, for all the days of his life. 24 February 1467. p. 18.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Decani Facultatis Artium, pp. 104, 105.

11. Master David Cadyow, Precentor of the Cathedral Church of Glasgow, and the first Rector of the University, gives to the Faculty of Arts of the same, the sum of twelve merks, for the purchase of an annuity of ten shillings; in consideration of which the Masters of the Faculty bind themselves to celebrate yearly, on the 7th of January, an obit or anniversary for the said Master David, at the altar founded by him in the Cathedral in honour of Saint Serf and our Lady; reading the office for the departed, namely, Placebo and Dirige, with the nine lessons, on the vigil or eve; and on the morrow, one of the elder Masters chosen by the Dean saying mass, the other Masters standing by and making orisons for the donor's soul. The memorandum is without date, but in another hand there is added the date of the donor's death, namely, 7 January 1468. p. 20.
From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Statutorum Facultatis Artium, foll. 11, 12. The concluding notice of the rents belonging to the obit is in a different and much more modern hand.
The date here assigned to the donor's decease differs from that given in the Exscripta ex Martyrologio Glasguensi, printed in the Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis, No. 545, pp. 614—617, where he is said to have died on the nineteenth of August 1467.

12. Instruments of seisin of the Faculty of Arts in certain yearly rents given to the Faculty for the celebration of the obit of Master David Cadyow, No. 11; namely, five shillings and two pennies from the tenement of Richard Gardyner in the Common Vennel or Lonnyn; five shillings from the tenement of Margaret Kerle widow, on the east side of the High Street; and five shillings from two roods or particates of land in the Long Croft, stretching in length from Saint Thenaw's gate to Ranald's Wynd. 22 May 1477. 19 December 1471. 15 July 1470. p. 21.
Abbreviated from the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Decani Facultatis Artium, pp. 74—77.

13. Confirmation under his great seal, by James III. King of Scots, to his well beloved daughter the University of Glasgow, of the Letter of Exemption from Taxes granted by his progenitor King James II., No. 2. 10 December 1472. p. 25.
From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, pp. 6, 7. A copy in a hand of the seventeenth century is in the University archives, and is entered as No. 485, of Blackhouse's Inventory, pp. 7, 8.
As to the fate of the original, see above, in the note on No. 1.

14. Letter under his privy seal, by James III. King of Scots, charging the Bishops of his realm, that under no pretext of tax or subsidy, shall they trouble or molest, in person, things, goods, office, or benefice, the Rectors, Deans of Faculties, Procurators of Nations, Regents, Masters, Beadles, Scriveners, Stationers, Parchment-sellers, Members and Scholars continuing in the University of Glasgow [Prelates only excepted]; nay, rather that they shall, as far as in them lies, keep and defend in their aforesaid immunity from taxation, all and each of the persons above written being incorporated in the University, of whom it shall be duly certified by letters under the hand and seal of the Scribe of the University, that they are continual Students in the same, or are sojourning there for the sake of study. 10 December 1472. p. 26.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, pp. 7, 8. A copy in a hand of the seventeenth century is in the University archives, and is entered as No. 485, of Blackhouse's Inventory, pp. 9, 10.

As to the fate of the original, see above, in the note on No. 3.

15. The Laird of Halkhead and Thom Stewart of Mynto having complained to the Lords of Council, that their tenants of the lands of Arthurle, in the parish of Neilston and shire of Renfrew, were troubled by Master John Goldsmyth and Master John Doby, for an annuity claimed from the said lands by the Faculty of Arts of the University; and that the Bishop of Glasgow was taking trial of the said claim in the Court Spiritual: The Lords of Council charge the Bishop not to meddle or proceed in the matter, seeing it is secular and to be judged by the King's temporal laws, and forbid that the tenants of the lands be troubled until the claim be so determined in the Court Civil. 20 January 1480. p. 27.

From Acta Dominorum Concilii—the record of the Acts of the Lords of Council in Civil Causes, p. 48.

The College is found in possession of the disputed annuity in the year 1575, see No. 52, p. 91.

16. Foundation by Master John Restoun, Bachelor in Decrees, and Perpetual Vicar of Dunlop, of a Perpetual Chantry in the aisle of Saint Michael the Archangel, within the Cathedral of Glasgow, behind the great south gate of the same, to be served by a Chaplain presented by the Rector of the University and his deputies, who are constituted Visitors of the Chantry. 23 June 1481. p. 28.

From the MS. Volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, pp. 140—143.

17. Foundation by William Stewart, Canon of Glasgow, Prebendary of Killern, and Rector of Glassford, of a Perpetual Chantry at the high altar of the Church of the Friars Preachers of Glasgow; the Lord Rector of the University and the Regents in the College of Arts, with the Provost and Bailies of the city, being constituted Conservators of the Chantry. 15 June 1487. p. 33.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, pp. 145—147; collated with the original in the University archives, which is entered as No. 157, of Blackhouse's Inventory. The latter has this title inscribed on the back: "Fundacio capellanie in Ecclesia Fratrum Predicatorum de Glasgw per venerabilem virum Magistrum Willelmum Stewart Canonicum Glasguensem et Rectorem de Glasfurde etc. Cui capellanie Rector Universitatis Glasguensis unacum Preposito Balliuis et communitate Glasguensi sunt conservatores secundum tenorem retroscripte Fundacionis." Four seals remain, being those of the Prior Provincial, the Prior of Glasgow, the Prior of Aberdeen, and the Prior of Wigton, which latter seems to have been appended by mistake, in place of the seal of the Prior of the Convent of Saint Andrews. The common seal of the Convent of Glasgow, and the seal of the Prior of Edinburgh, are lost.

18. Another copy of the Foundation, No. 17. 6 July 1487. p. 37.
From the original in the University archives, which is entered as No. 159 of Blackhouse's Inventory. The seals are gone.
Copies by the late General Hutton, both of this and the immediately preceding deed [No. 17], are engrossed in the MS. volume in the University archives, described as No. 100 of the Clerk's Press, Nos. 157, 159.

19. The Chancellor of the Metropolitan Church of Glasgow having complained to the Archbishop, that, albeit by statutes and usage, and by privileges confirmed by the Apostolic See, he and his predecessors, beyond the memory of man, have had the right of instituting and depriving the Master of the Grammar School of the city of Glasgow, and have had the care, government, and supreme charge of the said school, so that, without license from the Chancellor for the time being, no one might lawfully keep a grammar school, or instruct scholars in grammar, or youth in the elements of knowledge, either privily or publicly, within the said city or University; yet Master David Dwne, a Priest of the diocese of Glasgow, abiding in the said city, has actually set himself to teach and instruct scholars in grammar, and boys in the rudiments of learning, within the said city and University, separately, publicly, and openly, without any leave whatsoever from the Chancellor, nay, in defiance and contempt of his authority: The Archbishop, sitting in judgment within the Chapter of the Cathedral house, having seen and considered the allegations and reasons on either side, with the statutes, privileges, and usage, and the depositions of witnesses, by advice of his Chapter, and of the Rector and Clerks of the University, finally decreed that the said Master David Dwne ought not to keep a grammar school, nor instruct scholars in grammar, or youth in the elements of knowledge, within the aforesaid city or University, without special leave of the Chancellor asked and given. 13 September 1494. p. 37.
From the MS. Chartulary of the Bishopric of Glasgow [in the Library of the University], pp. 939—941; which bears to be copied "ex autographis in archivis Ecclesiae Glasguensis." The instrument is printed in an abbreviated form in the Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis, No. 470, pp. 490, 491.

20. Robert Archbishop of Glasgow presents and collates Master Cuthbert Symson, Priest, to the Perpetual Chantry of Saint Nicholas the Confessor, within the Hospital of Saint Nicholas in the City of Glasgow, under condition that he shall make his personal daily residence within the Pedagogy of Glasgow, for the instruction of youth in grammar, and daily reading in the same. 30 April 1501. p. 39.
From the original in the University archives. It is entered as No. 196 of Blackhouse's Inventory.

On the back, but more than half effaced, is the Notary's Instrument upon the Execution of the Letter of Collation, on the 17th May 1501, which, in so far as it can be read, is printed at page 41. Two seals have been appended, but both are gone.

21. Robert, Archbishop of Glasgow, in presence of his General Chapter, assembled at Whitsuntide, declares his intention, God willing, to annex the Vicarages of Cadder [in the Rural Deanery of Rutherglen], of Stobo [in the Deanery of Peebles], of Lintoun [in the same Deanery], of Kilbirny [in the Deanery of Kyle and Cunninghame], or Killearn [in the Deanery of Lennox], and the Rectory of Garwald [in the Deanery of Nithsdale], to the College of his University of Glasgow. 8 June 1506. p. 42.

From the Liber Prothocollorum Magistri Cuthberti Symonis, fol. 43 recto, now in the possession of the Right Reverend James Kyle, D.D. Bishop of Germanicia, and Vicar Apostolic in Scotland, from whose transcript the protocol is here printed, so as to represent, as well as types will allow, the deletions and interlineations of the original.

In the year 1738, a transcript, as well of this protocol as of that which immediately follows, No. 22, and of a third, No. 27, was communicated to the University of Glasgow by the Scots College at Paris, in whose custody the Protocol book then was. The copy of this protocol, which is engrossed at p. 11 of the Parisian transcript, bears to be taken, "Ex Protocollo Magistri Cuthberti Simonis Notarij publici et Scribae Capituli Glasguensis continente Acta ab Anno Domini 1499 ad Annum Domini 1510. fol. 43 recto." Bishop Kyle states that this description is not altogether accurate: that the Register extends from 1498 (the first entry being of the 29th April 1498, at the Burgh of Irvine, whence the Notary removed to Glasgow in the year 1500; a protocol of the 2d May of that year being dated infra Pedagogium Civitatis Glasguensis,) to the year 1513. The name, which, in the Parisian transcript of 1738, is written Kilban, Bishop Kyle reads Kilbirny. "The first four letters," he says, "are quite distinct. After the b appears that circular dash which in all such MSS. indicates an r with any vowel: in conformity with modern orthography, I make this vowel an i. The penultimate letter may be either n or u, but cannot be a. The last is decidedly y, though the transcriber was deceived by its similarity to a final n." The name accordingly stands in the text, as the Bishop has written it, Kilbirny; but it is not to be concealed that an objection lies to this reading, in the fact that the Vicarage of Kilbirny belonged not to the See of Glasgow, but to the Benedictine Monastery of Kilwynning. [Origines Parochiales Scotiae, p. 92. Acts of the Parliaments of Scotland, vol. ii. p. 444.] Killearn, often written Kilherne, may perhaps be the church meant. The Rectory of Killearn formed a prebend in the Chapter of Glasgow: the Vicarage was in the advowson of the Bishop. Origines Paroch. p. 40.

The copy in the Parisian transcript exhibits none of the deletions, and incorporates all the interlined alterations to be found in the protocol, as engrossed in Dr. Kyle's Register, whilst the testing clause which occurs in the latter is wholly omitted in the Parisian transcript.

22. Robert, Archbishop of Glasgow, with consent of the Dean and Chapter, annexes certain benefices [whose names are not given] in the Diocese of Glasgow to his College in Glasgow. 5 February 1507. p. 42.

From the Liber Prothocollorum Magistri Cuthberti Symonis, fol. 80 recto, in the possession of the Right Reverend Dr. Kyle, Bishop of Germanicia. See above, in the note on No. 21.

A copy of this Protocol was communicated by the Scots College at Paris to the University of Glasgow, in the year 1738. See note on No. 27.

23. In consideration of an obit to be celebrated in the Convent of the Friars Preachers, Sir Archibald Calderwood, perpetual Vicar of Cadder, gives to the College of the Faculty of Arts of the University of Glasgow, an annuity of eight shillings, for a collation to the Dean, Regents, Masters, and Students, on the day of the said obit; together with a mazer and four silver spoons. 12 November 1506. p. 43.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Statutorum Facultatis Artium, foll. 12, 13. The note of the day and year of the donor's death [30 June 1510] is added in another, but contemporary, hand.

24. Another instrument regarding the same bequest. 27 November 1509. p. 44.

From a notarial copy in the University archives, which is entered as No. 209 of Blackhouse's Inventory. A copy by the late General Hutton is in the MS. volume in the University archives, which is described as No. 100 of the Clerk's Press, No. 209.

25. Letter by James IV. King of Scots, under his privy seal, charging the Ordinaries Spiritual of his realm, that, on production of the Letters of Exemption from Taxes granted to his University of Glasgow, they take no tax from the continual Regents, Students, or daily Officers of the said University. 7 June 1509. p. 47.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, p. 8. There is a copy in the hand of the seventeenth century, in the University archives, engrossed at p. 10 of the MS. Register, which is entered as No. 485, of Blackhouse's Inventory. As to the fate of the original, see above, in the note on No. 1.

26. Confirmation by King James V. with advice and consent of his Tutor, John Duke of Albany, Governor of the Realm, of the Letter of Exemption from Taxes granted to the University by King James II. No. 2, by King James III. No. 13, and by King James IV. No. 25. 20 May 1522. p. 47.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, p. 8. There is also a copy in a hand of the seventeenth century in the University archives, which is engrossed at pp. 11–12 of the Register, which is entered as No. 485 of Blackhouse's Inventory. As to the original, see above, in the note on No. 1.

27. Note of a Protocol for an Instrument regarding the Foundation of a College in Glasgow, by Gavin Dunbar, Archbishop of Glasgow. The note gives the date 1527. The true date of the instrument, as now authenticated, was 15 August, 1537. p. 49.

From a description of the Protocol by the Scots College at Paris, in the year 1738, (in whose custody the original then was,) engrossed in the Register of the University, (a MS. volume in the University archives, which is entered as No. 27, of the Clerk's Press, pp. 121—123, 12 December 1738,) in these words: "Ex altero Protocollo M Cuthberti Simonis, continente Acta ab Anno Dom. 1517 ad annum 1540: De Collegio Fundando in Glasgw, folio 122 verso, A.D. 1527." The Protocol book from whence the copy of the instrument, which was sent with this notice to the University, was transcribed, is not known to exist. Less fortunate than its companion, which has passed into the custody of the Right Reverend Bishop Kyle, (see above, in the note on No. 21, and Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis, pref. pp. viii. ix.) it appears not to have been heard of since the library of the Scots College was scattered in the fatal storm of the French Revolution, in the year 1792.

At the time when the note of this Deed of Foundation, inserted in the text, was printed, no copy of the deed was known to exist. But while this Table was going through the press, there was discovered, in the Faculty-room, the formal transcript of certain documents transmitted by the Scots College at Paris to the University of Glasgow, in 1738. The transcript was accompanied by a letter from the office-bearers of the Scots College, in the following terms: "With these we send authentic and notarial copies of the three chief records of the Foundation of the University, taken from the ancient Chartularys, together with some authentic transcripts from the Protocols of Cuthbert Simson, Notary and Scribe of the Chapter of Glasgow, containing all we could find among the records of Glasgow of the ancient endowments of the University by the Archbishops; among which you will no doubt remark the act entitled, Collegium de novo Fundatum, by Archbishop Dunbar, eighty-six years after the foundation of the University."

The transcript is entitled, "Instrumentum Publicum continens Exemplaria authentica Chartarum ad Universitatem Glasguensem in Scotia spectantium.—E Collegio Scotorum Parisiis." The documents transcribed are,—

The sixth document of the Parisian transcript—Bishop Dunbar's foundation—which was imperfectly described in the note printed as No. 27, page 49, of this volume, is now given at length from the Paris notarial transcript of 1738, in the Appendix to this volume, p. 493.

28. Master Thomas Leiss, Subdean of Dunblane, and perpetual Vicar of Dreghorn, lying on sick bed, gives certain tenements and annuities for the endowment of a perpetual Chantry at the Altar of Saint Michael the Archangel, within the Metropolitan Cathedral of Glasgow, in terms of a foundation thereafter to be made by the Rector and the Dean of Faculty of the University, whom the donor constituted Patrons of the Chantry. 8 March 1530. p. 49.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Decani Facultatis Artium, pp. 163, 164.

29. The same Master Thomas Leiss declares his wish that the offspring of Robert Watson and Helen Leiss, his cousin, being in the order of priesthood and fit for the office, shall be preferred in the first place, and before any others, as well to the Chantry founded by him at the Altar of Saint Michael in the Metropolitan Church of Glasgow, as to the Chantry founded by him at the Altar of Saint Mary the Virgin, in the Parish Church of Cadder; and that they shall enjoy the said Chantries for all the days of their lives, without any farther disposition whatsoever. 8 March 1530. p. 52.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Decani Facultatis Artium, p. 165.

30. Master James Houstoun, Subdean of Glasgow, founder of the Collegiate Church of Saint Mary the Virgin and Saint Anne her Mother [otherwise called Our Lady College] within the city of Glasgow, appoints the Lord Rector of the University and the Dean of the Faculty of Arts, Visitors of the Collegiate Church aforesaid, and bequeaths certain yearly sums to be paid to them for making such visitation. About the year 1539. p. 53.

From the Liber Nove Ecclesie Beatarum Marie Virginis et Anne Matris eius fundate per quondam bone memorie Magistrum Jacobum Houstoun Subdecanum Glasguensem, foll. 16, 17, in the archives of the city of Glasgow. This register was printed for the Maitland Club, at the charge of the late Marquis of Bute, in the year 1846, under the title of Liber Collegii Nostre Domine. The passages printed in the text will be found in pp. 48—50 of that volume.

31. Confirmation by Mary Queen of Scots, with advice and consent of her Tutor, James Earl of Arran, Governor of her Realm, of the Letters of Exemption from Taxes granted to the University, by King James II. No. 2; by King James III. No. 13; by King James IV. No. 25; and by King James V. No. 26. 6 July 1547. p. 54.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, p. 10. There is a notarial copy taken from this record, not many years after the date of the original, in the University archives, entered as article 11, of Dillon's Inventory, No. XIV. There is also another copy in a hand of the seventeenth century, in the University archives, engrossed at pp. 16–17 of the Register which is entered as No. 485 of Blackhouse's Inventory.

32. Master David Gibson, Vicar of Colmanel [in the rural Deanery of Carrick], with consent of the Chapter of Glasgow, Patrons of the Benefice, and of the Rector of the University and of the Pedagogy of Glasgow, to which the Vicarage is annexed, grants the same in lease for nineteen years, at the yearly rent of twenty pounds, to Master Gilbert Kennedy, brother to the Laird of Bargany, in consideration of certain sums paid by himself and his friends for the building and repair of the University and Pedagogy. 24 July 1552. p. 56.

Abridged from the original in the University archives, entered as No. 316 of Blackhouse's Inventory. Three seals, on red wax, remain. The first, that of the Rector, is so defaced, that only these letters of the legend are to be decyphered, ni lavdon, denoting probably that the seal was that of Walter Beton, Archdeacon of Lothian, and Rector of the University at the date of the deed. The second seal is that of the Chapter, and shows a figure of Saint Kentigern, with his fish and ring on one hand, and his bell and bird upon the other, with the legend s. capituli. Glasguen. ad causas, all as engraved in the Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis, plate VI. fig. 5. The third seal, that of the Vicar of Colmanel, is inscribed David Gibsone, and shows a shield charged with a fess between three fleurs de lis in chief and what seems a human head and neck in base.

It will be observed, that though this deed expressly declares that the Vicarage was then annexed to the University, the Charter of Annexation [No. 37] was not granted until five years afterwards. The annexation, however, would seem to have taken effect from the year 1537, the date of the grant by Archbishop Dunbar, recorded in the Protocol printed at length in the Appendix to this volume, p. 493. At the same time, no trace of such annexation is found in a deed of presentation to the benefice in the year 1541, preserved in the University archives, and entered as No. 244 of Blackhouse's Inventory. The patronage was then vested in the Dean and Chapter.

33. Charter of Alienation by the Chaplain of Saint Michael, with consent of the Rector of the University, Patron of the Chantry, of a tenement in the Rotton Row, for a yearly rent of thirty-six shillings. 28 November 1553. p. 58.

Abbreviated from the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, pp. 143, 144.

34. Letter under the signet of Queen Mary and her Mother the Queen Regent, exempting the Rector of the University, the Dean of Faculty, and a Regent in the Pedagogy, being beneficed Clerks in the Diocese of Glasgow, from any share of the tax of ten thousand pounds granted by the Clergy of the Realm. 8 February 1556. p. 59.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, p. 11. A copy in a hand of the seventeenth century, in the University archives, is engrossed at p. 13 of the Register which is entered as 485 of Blackhouse's Inventory.

35. Letter under the signet of Queen Mary and the Queen Regent her mother, exonerating the Rector, the Dean of Faculty, and a Regent in the Pedagogy, beneficed Clergymen, from payment of the subsidy of two thousand pounds voted by the Clergy, and discharging the Rector, Deans of Faculty, and Regents, from payment of taxes in all time coming. 15 June 1556. p. 60.

From the original in the University archives, and entered as No. 487 of Blackhouse's Inventory. The seal, on red wax, remains impressed on the paper. The Letter itself is so decayed as to be in part illegible. Its defects have been supplied by collation with a nearly contemporary copy in the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, pp. 11, 12. A notarial copy, made from that record by Thomas Knox, Scribe of the University, is entered as No. 488 of Blackhouse's Inventory. There is a copy in a hand of the seventeenth century, engrossed at p. 14 of the Register which is entered as No. 485 of Blackhouse's Inventory.

36. Letter under the signet by Queen Mary and her mother the Queen Regent, discharging the Rector of the University, the Dean of Faculty, and the Principal Regent of the Pedagogy, all beneficed Clergymen, from payment of any part of two subsidies, one of two thousand pounds, the other of two thousand and five hundred pounds, granted by the Clergy of Scotland. 14 March 1557. p. 61.
From the original in the University archives, which is entered as No. 486 of Blackhouse's Inventory. A minute fragment of the seal, on red wax, remains impressed on the paper. There is a copy in the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Rectoris Universitatis, p. 12; and another in a hand of the seventeenth century, which is engrossed at p. 15 of the Register which is entered as No. 485 of Blackhouse's Inventory.

37. James Archbishop of Glasgow, with consent of his Chapter, annexes the perpetual Vicarage of Colmanel to the Pedagogy of his city of Glasgow. 24 January 1558. p. 62.
From the original in the University archives, which is entered as No. 317 of Blackhouse's Inventory.
The seal of the Archbishop, on red wax, remains: the legend is partly obliterated, but seems to run SIGILLUM IACOBI BETON ARCHIEPISCOPI GLASGUEN. The seal shows a figure of Saint Kentigern, with his fish and ring: beneath, surmounted by a cross crosslet, is a shield of arms, wholly obliterated, but probably the same with that figured on a similar seal of the same Archbishop, engraved in the Registrum Episcopatus Glasguensis, plate IV. fig. 3. The common seal of the Chapter is gone.

38. Master John Davidson, Principal Regent of the Pedagogy of Glasgow, and Chaplain of the Deanery of Saint Michael the Archangel, with consent of the Rector of the University and the Dean of Faculty, Patrons of the said Chantry, alienates a tenement and garden lying on the east side of the Stockwellgate, for a yearly rent of sixty shillings. A.D. 1559. p. 65.
Abbreviated from the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Statutorum Facultatis Artium, foll. 17—19. The deeds are imperfect, the dates and the names of the witnesses not having been filled in.

39. Memorandum as to the extent of the Land of the Pedagogy between the Molendinar Burn and the Muir Butts, which should measure four acres, but when measured by the Barony men at the Archbishop's command, in the year 1557, was found to contain only three acres, three roods, one fall, and the fourth part of a fall. May 1559. p. 67.
From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled Liber Statutorum Facultatis Artium, fol. 14.

40. Letter under the privy seal by Mary Queen of Scots, setting forth the ruined state of the University and College, its Schools and Chambers standing half built, the endowments of its Teachers and the provision made for its Poor Scholars having ceased, so that little appears beyond the decay of a University; founding therefore Bursaries for Five Poor Children, to be called Bursars of Queen Mary's Foundation, and to be presented by the Queen's Grace and her successors; and granting to the College for their support the manse and "kirkroom" of the Friars Preachers of Glasgow; thirteen acres of land beside the City, ten merks of yearly rent formerly due to the said Friars for tenements in the City, twenty merks yearly from the Nethertoun of Hamilton, ten bolls of meal yearly from certain lands in the Lennox, and ten merks yearly from the lands and lordship of Avondale. 13 July 1563. p. 67.

From the original in the University archives, which is entered as No. 394 of Blackhouse's Inventory. A fragment of the seal, on red wax, remains, but much defaced.

At one corner of the parchment is this note, in a hand not much more recent than that of the original: "The 13 aikeris of land before mentionat ar the landis of Dowhill, etc. The 10 bollis abouvspecified ar taken out of the landis of Ballagan in the Lennox, within the paroche of Kilmaronok."

60. The Lords of Council, at the instance of the College, find that the claims of John Grahame, citizen of Glasgow, to the great tenement he occupied, and all the yards, with the exception of the Churchyard, attached to it, are null and void, because resting on two charters, one of which he could not produce, and the other was invalidated (1.) as professing to be granted by the Friars Preachers after the dissolution of religious houses, when their property had devolved to the Crown; and, moreover, as not bearing to be subscribed by the Provincial of the Order; and (2.) as wanting the subscription of the Prior by whom it purported to be granted. And the Charter being thus invalidated, a Seisin and Royal Confirmation following upon it were consequently held to be null and void. 7 June 1578. p. 116.

Abbreviated from the original authenticated extract in the University archives, which is entered as No. 312 of Blackhouse's Inventory.

93. The Rentale of the College Leving yeirlie. p. 157.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, which is described as No. 8 of the Clerk's Press, pp. 1—30.

The Rental occupies the first 15 folios of the volume. Its date cannot be fixed with precision; but it appears to have been written about the years 1580—1590; at all events, the fact of Oswald [or Osee] Moresoun being mentioned in the Rentall of the Auld Fundation of the College, dated anno 1575, p. 91, as then occupying a part of Arthurlie's House, and being again referred to in the present Rental, as still in life and in possession of the same tenement, affords a strong presumption that it was drawn up prior to the year 1600. Other instances occur of occupants of lands or houses, mentioned in the Rental of 1575, being alluded to in the later Rental, as still in possession of the same property.

The present Rental has been interpolated throughout, principally in two different hands, at different times, from the year 1606 to the year 1619. The first series of interpolations shows where a tenement had passed into the possession or occupancy of a different party from that mentioned in the Rental, whilst the second corrections denote that the same tenement had devolved to a third proprietor or tenant, different from the one indicated in the first. These additions also record the subsequent augmentations, when any such occurred, of the rents and feu duties mentioned in the Rental. The notice of the rents of the Vicaris Yairdis, p. 164, has also been incorporated by a later hand. All such corrections and additions have in the text been inserted within brackets.

The Rental of St. Ninianes Kirk beyond the Brig, p. 175, has been deleted, by a pen being drawn across it, and in a contemporary hand is written, "This Chaplanrie belanges to the Grammar Schole."

After the title of S. Jhones Chaplanrie, p. 176, there is a blank space of about half a page in the original record, which seems to have been left for supplying the omitted matter at some subsequent time.

That section of the Rental entitled Thriddis, p. 176, is erased, by the pen having been drawn across it, and on the margin is written, "The Chaplanes all discessit."

The documents themselves, of which the foregoing titles have been printed, do not now appear to be in the College archives, probably for the reason assigned in the note in the text.

There are many Rentals of the Subdeanery in the College archives, of about the same date as this, or a little later; but this appears to be the most complete of all, and that concerning the accuracy of which the least doubt can be entertained. Besides the title printed, it is entitled, on the back, "Bishop Whytford's Observationes on the Subdeanery and the Tacks set by him, with Account of the old Rentall." This MS. from internal evidence, appears to have been written in 1638, at which period Bishop Whytford was Subdean of Glasgow. It comprises twelve closely written pages, and each entry has one or more notes appended to it in a heavy, indistinct hand (doubtless that of the Subdean), stating the terms and endurance of existing tacks.

The minute of the 15th November 1654, authenticating this rental, has been appended at the end of it, along with two similar minutes, of different dates, but similar purport, and exhibits autograph signatures of the Moderators.

The testament and the codicil appended to it are in Mr. Zachary Boyd's own handwriting. The precise time of his death is not known; and the date of the codicil is the last evidence of his life. It is extremely probable that he died in the course of the month of March 1653, as, by the 21st of April following, the College is found taking steps to secure its right to Mr. Zachary Boyd's property. See the work "Deeds instituting Bursaries, &c. in the University of Glasgow," p. 39.

From an uninventoried document in the hand of the time, found in the Old Cabinet in the Fore Hall of the College.

239. Information for the University anent their rights to the Subdeanery by Sir John Nisbett of Dirleton, in which, with the view of exhibiting the progress of the College's titles to that benefice, he enumerates the various personages in whom the right of patronage was vested, from the year 1588, when the King was patron, until the year 1647, when the Duchess of Hamilton sold her right to the teinds and patronage of the Subdeanery to the College. The unfounded nature of the claims of Lord Boyd and Lord Kilmarnock, and the justice of those of the College, are next shown at some length. Circa 1662. p. 383.

Abbreviated from the original in the University archives, which is entered as No. 7 of Supplementary Inventory.

It has not been deemed necessary to print the concluding portion of this paper, as it is identical in argument and language with No. 238, a fact which indicates that both documents are the productions of the same author. Although the statements adduced are perhaps liable to the objection of being one-sided, yet the name of Nisbett of Dirleton is so high an authority, that his views, even as an advocate pleading for his client, seem worthy of being preserved.

240. Articles of Agreement between the Earl of Kilmarnock and the University, to the effect, that the Masters shall retain their right to the Subdeanery, but shall pay a certain sum of money, to be determined by the Bishop of the Isles and the Provost of Glasgow, to the said Earl, in consideration of his renouncing his claims to that benefice, and undertaking to resign the same into the King's hands for a new gift thereof in favour of the University. 6 November 1663. p. 386.

This charter is entered as No. 460 of Blackhouse's Inventory of Deeds in the University archives, but, the original not being at present accessible, the text is reprinted from that published in the Appendix to the Report of the Commissioners of Visitation of the University of Glasgow, in the year 1837. The latter part of that copy is, however, so vitiated, that it became necessary to collate it with the Precept of Seisin [No. 253 infra] following upon the charter, for the purpose of restoring the language of the original. The alterations suggested by the transcriber for the Report, and inserted within brackets in the copy there printed, being wholly unwarranted by the Precept, and at variance with ascertained facts respecting the amount of the University's income at that period, have been rejected in the reprint published in this work: whilst some of the names in the testing clause, as printed in the Report, being fictitious or inaccurately transcribed, they have been wholly omitted in the text.

253. Precept of Seisin, under the great seal, following upon No. 252. 4 March 1670. p. 411.

Abbreviated from the original in the University archives, which is entered as No. 459 of Blackhouse's Inventory. The seal is gone.

Abbreviated from the authenticated extract from the Court Books of Lanarkshire, which is entered as No. 475 of Blackhouse's Inventory of Deeds in the University archives. As this mortification has been printed at length among "Deeds instituting Bursaries, &c. in the College and University of Glasgow," pp. 68—75, it has been deemed sufficient to give merely a short description of the deed of endowment in the present collection. For biographical notices of the Earl of Dundonald and his son, Lord Cochrane, the founders of the Dundonald Bursaries, see p. 67 of the work above mentioned.

260. Backbond and Obligation by the Masters for the fulfilment of the conditions of the immediately preceding Mortification. p. 416.

The copy is entered as 476 of that Inventory, where it is added, "This [backbond] was thought necessary for the Earl's security, because the mortification, containing the obligation on the part of the Masters, was in their own hands." From Acta Parl. Scot. Vol. VIII. p. 94.

264. Contract between George Lord Ross and Francis Ross of Auchlossin, on the one part, and the Universities of Glasgow and Aberdeen on the other, in which Lord Ross and Francis Ross agree to pay 6000 merks to the said Universities, in the proportion of 4000 merks to the University of Aberdeen, and of 2000 merks to the University of Glasgow, however little shall happen to be recovered of Captain Ross of Rosseyle's estate; and if the value of the recovered property shall exceed 33000 merks, in that case to pay 11000 merks, in the proportion of two-thirds to the University of Aberdeen, and of one-third to the University of Glasgow. 27 June 1677, and 2 March 1678. p. 420.

Abbreviated from the original in the University archives, which is entered as article 1 of Dillon's Inventory, No. XXVI.

As this contract has been printed at length among "Deeds instituting Bursaries, &c. in the University of Glasgow," pp. 55—63, a brief description only of its principal provisions has been inserted in the text.

265. In consideration of the Universities of Aberdeen and Glasgow having agreed to dispone their whole right to Captain Ross's Mortification to Lord Ross and Francis Ross, for the sum of 17000 merks, to be paid in certain proportions to the said Universities, the said Lord Ross and Francis Ross grant a bond to the University of Glasgow, that the members thereof shall not be bound to maintain more Bursars than their respective proportion of the 17000 merks can bear. 9 April 1678. p. 421.

From the original in the University archives, which is entered as article 3 of Dillon's Inventory, No. XXVI.

The agreement referred to in this document, by which Lord Ross and Francis Ross undertake to pay 17000 merks to the two Universities, on condition of their members renouncing all right to Captain Ross's bequests, was not carried into effect, as appears by a subsequent agreement between the University of Glasgow and Francis Ross of Auchlossin, in which, after narration of the terms of the contract described in No. 264, to the effect, that however little shall happen to be recovered of Captain Ross's property, Lord Ross and Francis Ross shall nevertheless pay 4000 merks to the Univesity of Aberdeen, and 2000 merks to the University of Glasgow, the Masters of the latter make the following declaration: "And now, at the making hereof, in regard . . . that the said Francis Ross of Auchinlossen has made payment to us of the soume of two thowsand merkes, as the third part of the said principall soume of sex thousand merkes money, quhairof we grant the receipt, and hold us weel content . . . that whatever ease or abaitment the said Universitie of Aberdeen have granted to the said Francis Ross of their two third of the principal soume of sex thousand merkes and annual rent thereof, that we shall grant him the same ease and abaitment proportionally effeirand to our third part thereof." . . . (The original agreement, from which this quotation has been made, is entered as article 5 of Dillon's Inventory, No. XXVI. of Deeds in the University archives, and is printed at length among "Deeds instituting Bursaries, &c. in the University of Glasgow," p. 64.)

For additional information on the subject of this bequest, and a brief memoir of Captain Ross of Rosseyle, see pp. 54—65 of the above mentioned "Deeds, instituting Bursaries, etc." At p. 291 of that work there is a list of documents relating to Captain Ross's mortification in the archives of the University of Aberdeen, which may possibly throw light on the circumstances which prevented the testamentary purposes of Captain Ross from being carried into effect,—a curious subject of inquiry, as, instead of the twelve bursaries which he contemplated in his will having been founded, "only one bursary was instituted, in virtue of his bequest, in the University of Glasgow, and none, so far as can be discovered, in the University of Aberdeen." Ibid. p. 54.

The Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, taking into consideration the opinion of the Lord Advocate, that mortified lands are exempted from paying any part of the supply granted to his Majesty by the act of Convention in July 1678, and by the act of Parliament in August 1681, do therefore exempt the lands mortified to the College and Hospitals of Glasgow from payment of any part of the said supply. 17 March 1682. p. 424.

Abbreviated from the original, hitherto uninventoried, in the University archives.

This lease of one of the landed properties, mortified to the College by Dr. Daniel Williams, for the support of his Bursars at Glasgow, was never subscribed. Some legal difficulty as to the removal of the actual occupant of the lands having arisen, the College consulted Lord Islay, who engaged to use his efforts to procure them redress. In the progress of the business, it was suggested that the most expedient course would be to find a party willing, on obtaining a lease, to undertake the trouble and expense of effecting the removal; and Lord Islay announced, that he understood the Duke of Chandos to be desirous of a lease. What occasioned the breaking off of this negociation does not appear; but the College ultimately put the matter into the hands of Mr. Yuille, Solicitor in London, who not only effected the peaceable resignation of the occupant, but procured a tenant willing to pay, on a nineteen years' lease, double the sum contemplated in the ninety-nine years' lease to the Duke of Chandos.

306. Disposition in favour of the College, by Charles Morthland, Professor of Oriental Languages, of certain tenements of land previously purchased by him, [Nos. 301, 302,] on which, and the adjacent ground of the College, six new houses, now occupied by the Professors, are built, the remaining portion forming the area known as the College New Court. 23 April 1744. p. 491.

Abbreviated from the original, hitherto uninventoried, in the University archives.

155. Right reverend father in God our right trusty and well beloved counsellour wee greete you well. We have upon occasion of our late being in Scotland observed some thinges which wee think fitt to put in better order which wee sall do as wee find cause But (as wee have wreitten to the right reverend father in God the Archbishope of St Andrewes) no one thing appeareth to us more necessarie then the well setling of our universities both for the service of God and good education of youth there; Now, as wee were then given to understand the whole companies of that universitie as well the doctours governours of the colledge, as the younger men ust to go to the church to service and sermon there, and there sitt promiscuouslie with the rest of the auditorie which looses much of the honour and dignitie of the universitie, being quyte contrarie to the course held in other well governed places of the like nature, and is in other diverse respects verry inconvenient: and whereas to this purpose by our lettres to the provest and baillies of that citie wee have willed and required them to provide fitt and convenient places within the Cathedrall Church of that citie for hearing of divine service, our speciall pleasure is that as well the students of that universitie as the governours doctours and others who live therein sall at all times every Sunday and holiday that that church observes repair thither at the houres both of morning and evening prayer and sermons, and that togidder and in decent maner with their gownes according to their severall degrees in schooles respectively, and that they do use the said habite of gownes according to their degrees in the schooles universitie and streets, and that you give us an accompt by lettre when this course is begunne, and afterwards once a year at least how it doth continue, which recommending to your speciall care we bid you farewell. [Note concerning Kilbride quherof the Colledge hes no commoditie for the present.

The rental therof is called 32 chalders meal. Set in long tacks about 5 chalders. The minister possesses presentlie about 7 chalders. The rest is set in tacks quhilk will shortlie expyre viz. after two or four yeiris.

It is thoght the rental therof being too dear ther may be deduced therof above 6 ch. victual. The Colledge must pay to the minister, conform to the act of Parliament, 12 chalders. There must be allowed to a collector to gadder it in and expenses 2 chalders, so that ther will rest about 7 chalders, and of tack dewties about 50 lib.]

Considerations.

Consider the unsuretie of the moneyes lent furth upon annuell rent, how unsure a ground that is to establish a constant rent.

Consider possibilitie of accidents that may fall out to put the Colledge to great expenses, as ruine of the Colledge housses, queirs belonging to ther benefices, extraordinar expenses of law etc. And presentlie ther is a quarter in the Inner Close of the Colledge which appeirs to be ruinous.

And (consider that ther is) an appearance that the Colledge sall be put to great chairges for the trying of the state of the benefices, attending on the Commission, leading of witnesses pleading etc.

Consider that in the kings foundation ther is allowed 21 chalders of victual for the table of 12 foundet persounes vizt. the principal 3 regents 4 burseris œconomus principals servand and porter, and now ther ar tuenty fyve monie moe susteined within the Colledge.

So ther ought to be a large allowance for the defraying of the ordinar burdens of the Colledge, becaus if the allowance be too strict the Colledge must contract debt, which is dangerous, but if in respect of a large allowance any thing may (be over) the superplus (may) be bestowed upon the pious uses of the Colledge.

[Consider that the victual presentlie belonging to the Colledge, besyde 4 chalder noticed in the deductions and debursings extends to 30 chalders 8 bolls 11 pecks quhilk being, communibus annis, at 5 lib the boll the value therof will extend to 2443 lib.

To which all the rental of the Colledge in money extending to 1973 lib. 3 s. 11 d.

(Summa) 4416 lib. 3 s. 11 d.

But the ordinar deductions and debursings of the Colledge extending to 5103 lib 11 s. 9 d.
According to this ther will be yearlie superexpendit 687 lib. 7 s. 10 d.]

utilitie of the said universitie to make purchese of the Ladie Dutches of Hamiltoune her right of the teithes of the paroches of Calder and Monkland sometime the Subdeanrie of Glasgow, her said right being the only let of their possessione therof, and to employ the soumes of money heirafter mentioned for that effect, and for settling a securitie for the use of the saids Burseres upon the saids teithes, the same laying convenientlie and neire unto the colledge, wherby a more certaine and tymeous peyment of the annuellrents mortified for the use abovementioned may be ensured: Doe therfore appoynt and ordeane that all and haill the principall soume of six thousand merks addebted by the Earle of Galloway and the principall soume of five thousand merks addebted sometime by the Earle of Marre now by the Laird of Fulwood, quhilk two soumes are made up of the soume of nine thousand merks mortified by Mr Michael Wilson for the interteinyment of poore schollars and the enlarging and upholding the fabrick, and ane thousand merks of the annuel rents of the said principall soume added therunto; as also all and whole the soume of thrie thousand merks addebted by the Toune Counsel of Glasgow and mortified by Maister Zacharie Boyd for manteanying of two burseres students in theologie, and the soume of four thousand merks addebted by the said Toune Counsel whilk principall soume consists of thrie thousand merks mortified by Maister William Struthers for the manteanying of two burseres students, and of ane thousand merks added to the said principall soume by the colledge forth of the annuel rents therof, together with the soume of ane thousand pounds Scots, as being the price agreed to be paid to the colledge by David Scott burgess of Glasgow for the to him ackers of land in the Longcroft, be forthwith uplifted and bestowed upon the said purchase of the teithes of Monkland and Calder from Anna Dutches of Hamiltoune and William Earle of Selkirk her husband, and towards the defraying of the forsaid great expenses the colledge hes been at. And for the better securing the burseres in the annuelrents forsaid, the moderators appoynt ane infeftment to be past in the name of and his successores in office for the use of the said burseres in ane yeirlie annuelinviolablie keiped according to this our present declaratioune and obleisment, and also in all uther heids and clauses, conforme to our foirsaids contracts made with the toune theranent: Mairover the moderators of the universitie being verie willing to entertein a good understanding and correspondence betuixt the toune and universitie in all things according to equitie and reasoune, and to evidence ther mutuall respects to the toune, wheras for some yeirs bypast the moderators of the universitie have allowed to its Bibliothecar, besyde quhat belongs to him by the foirsaid first mortificatione, his dyet at the colledg table in the rank of those commonlie callit Secundars, they with consent foirsaid are willing to graunt and doe heirby bind and obleidg them and ther successors in office, that it sall be at the optioune of the said Bibliothecar, whither presented by the toune or universitie in ther severall vices according to the former contracts and this obleissment, ether to sit at the second meise of the colledg publick table, or to have in steid and compensatioune of his dyet quhatsumever soume of money the masters of the universitie pay or allow to ther oiconomus for those wha sitt at the second meise yeirlie, and if the said Bibliothecar take his dyet at the said table he is to sitt upmost neirest the masters. speciallie concerned, viz. Renfrew, Govan, Kilbryd, Calder, Eister and Wester Monklands, and Dalzeell, and hes earnestly desyred that a warrand may be procured for these stipends for the use of the Colledge; and therfore humbly desyring for making the forsaid recommendation in some measur effectuall that the petitioners or their factours might be allowed and appointed to uplift the bygane vacand stipends of the forsaid paroches, to be employed towards the defraying of the debt, and compleiting of the buildings of the said University, as the petition beares: quhilk petition being at lenth heard read sein and considered, the Lords of his Majesties Privy Councill finds the desyre thereof reasonable, and therefore gives warrand to the petitioners to retain in their oune hands what is payable be the Colledge, and to uplift and receave from the heritours and others lyable the remnant of the stipends of the saids churches conform to their particular proportions; provyded the same be not formerly warrantably disposed to others; and, if neid beis, ordaines lettres to be direct hereupon in form as effeirs.

Information of the Caise betuixt my Lord Kilmarnock and the Universitie of Glasgow. [A.D. 1663.]

238. The Subdeanrie of Glasgow is a benefice consisting of the kirks of Calder and Monkland.

The Universitie of Glasgow hath good right to the said benefice, to witt both to the patronage therof, and to the teynds themselves.

To the patronage from the Erle of Haddingtoun, who in anno 1602 got a gift of the samen from the Kings Majestie with the consent of the titular according to law. The series of the Universities right from the Erle of Haddingtoun is the Erle of Haddingtoun, Sir James Cleland, Duke James Hamiltoun, Duke William Hamiltoun, my lady Dutches of Hamiltoun, the Universitie of Glasgow, all quhilk wer infeft in the foirsaid patronage, and most of ther infeftments ratified in Parliament.

To the teynds themselves, 1mo by old tacks sett by the titular with consent of the Archbishope Dean and Chapter to the Pryor of Blantyre, and by him disponed to Mr Walter Whytfoord, and by him to Duke James Hamiltoun, and so to the Universitie; 2^{o} by ane new tack from the Kings Majesties father to Duke James, ratifieing the said old tacks, and giveing him his airs and assignayis, as kyndlie tacksmen, a new one of five nyntein yeirs, to begin at the issue of the old tacks.

The Universitie according to their right hath ever since the acquyring the samen bein in peaceable and uninterrupted possession of the saids teynds, they and their authors now above these thriescoir threttein or fourtein years; lykewayes they and their authors have bein in possession of the right of patronage to the said benefice since the 1639 year of God without controule, and formerly also in the years 1626 and 1627, at which time Sir James Cleland, one of the Universities authors reduced in foro contradictorio my Lord Kilmarnockes pretended right.

The Erle of Kilmarnock wes never in possession of the saids benefices either of the teynds or of the patronage to the said benefice first or last, but be the contrair his right wes found void and null anno 1627 as said is, and hes ever layen dormant since, now these threttie sevin years, without so much as being once wakened; nay all this time my Lord Kilmarnock hath ever peaceably payed his own teynds first to my Lord Dukes authors, then to himself and his assigney, and last of all to the Universitie itself; further, he hath taken tacks both of his personage teynds from my Lord Dukes assigney, and of his viccarage teynds from the person presented be my Lord Duke of Hamiltoun, the Universities author to the said benefice of the Subdeanrie of Glasgow.

My Lord Kilmarnock as he hath never had possession so he hath no right at all to the saids teynds themselves, as being neither titular beneficed person nor tacksman; nor yet to the patronage of the said benefice; first, becaus the Kings Majestie did dispone in effect this same right of patronage with consent of this same titular to the Erle of Hadingtoun, the Universities author, twenty two years before my Lord Kilmarnocks right, as also the Kings Majestie again disponed to Duke Hamiltoun the Universities author, and both these are ratified in Parliament. Secondlie, my Lord Kilmarnocks right wes found voyd and null in law at the instance of Sir James Cleland another of the Universities authors. 3° My Lords right proceeds upon the dimission and resignation of a person who had no power so to do, as not having been presented to that benefice itself but only to ane modified stipend out of it; as never haveing received collation or institution to that benefice or any part therof; as at his entrie therunto haveing been protested against by three severall famous persones for his simony insufficiencie and intrusion to the prejudice of the Kirk; as haveing denuded himself of interest in the far greatest part of the benefice threttie six years before, nay having dilapidat the samen by tacks running far above threttie years after his death; as haveing given his consent twenty two years before the said dimission to the Universities right; as haveing bound himself by all bonds, even of perjurie and infamie, never to dimitt nor resigne that benefice; as haveing done it by ane unworthy and sacrilegious paction, of the which he sorely after repented, complaineing that he had been circumveened. Lastly, my Lord Kilmarnocks right is voyd and null, as being never confirmed in Parliament, but expressly contrair to the 11th act of Parliament 1621.

The Universitie hath their right to the teynds for a most onerous cause, to witt above 20000 lib. and that money mortified for the sustenance of poor students. My Lord Kilmarnock hath his right in effect for no onerous cause at all.

The Universitie is utterlie ruined if that interest should be taken from them, haveing alreadie suffered so much, viz. the loss of the haill Bishoprick of Galloway; as also being under twenty thowsand merks of debt throw ane expensive buildeing which they have carried on for the good of the publick and service of the kingdome, upon the which, as we shall instruct be clear compts, they have expended fiftie thowsand poundes, and ten thowsand merks more will not compleate it. Upon the contrair my Lord Kilmarnock is a young nobleman of ane great and riseing fortune.

The summe of all is, the Universities right is prior to my Lord Kilmarnocks, good in itself and just, for a verie onerous cause. It destroys a publick seminarie and Universitie if it be taken from them: they and their authors have time out of memory been in possession of that interest. On the other part my lord Kilmarnocks right is much posterior; unjust in itself; contrair to the act of Parliament; alreadie reduced by decreet. His Lordship wes never in possession; he hes no need to take from any, but may weel spare to give, chieflie to a poor ruined Universitie, which hath had the honour of his Lordships own and his honourable ancestors education, and probablie will have of his familie in all time comeing.

Information for the Universitie of Glasgow anent their Rights to the Subdeanrie by Sir John Nisbett of Dirleton.

239. The Subdeanrie of Glasgow is a benefice consisting of the kirkes of Calder and Monkland: The right of patronage of the said Subdeanrie belonged to the King's Majestie be vertew of the annexatione of kirklands to the Croune.

Anno 1588, the Kings Majestie presents Mr Patrick Walkingshaw to a thirds of the Subdeanrie of Glasgow, viz. to a modified stipend out of the said benefice, and that as being minister of Monkland and Calder, and for serving the cuir at the saids kirkes.

Mr Patrick Walkingshaw never got collatione or institutione upon his said presentatione, but ther stands registrat in the old Presbytrie Bookes of Glasgow three sealed protestationes against his admissione, for his simonie insufficiencie and intrusion to the prejudice of the Kirk.

Notwithstanding of the quhich the said Mr Patrick, behaving himselfe as Subdeane of Glasgow and Persone of Calder and Monkland, does confirme some former tacks, and setts new tacks of the said benefice to the Prior of Blantyr of twa lyfrents and 19 yeires thairefter; lykewas at the same tyme the said Mr Patrick did oblidge himselfe by all legall bands and by his corporall oath under the payne of infamie and perjurie never to dimit resigne or lease that benefice or any pairt thairof.

Anno 1602, the Erle of Haddingtoune having purchast the lands of Monkland fra Lord Mark Ker Abbot of Newbottell, got the same erected into ane barronie called the barronie of Monkland, and got ane gift of the Kings Majestie, with the consent of the said Mr Patrick Walkingshaw titular and minister of Monkland and Calder, to the advocatione donatione and right of patronage of the kirkes of Monkland and Calder quhich are the Subdeanrie of Glasgow, quhairupon he is infeft the 3 of August, the said yeir 1602.

Anno 1607, the Earle of Haddingtoune sellis the barronie of Monkland with the annexed right of patronage of the kirkes of Calder and Monkland unto Sir James Cleland, who thairupon is infeft the 12 August, the said yeir.

Anno 1624, the said Mr Patrick Walkingshaw, contrair to his obligatione and oath to the Prior of Blantyr, and to his former consent granted to the Erle of Haddingtoune, does dimitt and resigne the benefice of the Subdeanrie of Glasgow into the Kings Majesties hands, who thairupon got slipped throw under the Kings Majesties hand a right of patronage of the Subdeanrie of Glasgow annexed unto his barronie of Medross.

Anno 1626, Sir James Cleland presented Mr James Johnstone to the kirk of Monkland and Subdeanrie of Glasgow, who therupon served the cuir and uplifted a pairt of the patrimonie the yeires 1626, 1627, 1628, and 1629.

Anno 1627, ther is ane decree obteaned efter long and contentious debait at the instance of Sir James Cleland against Robert Lord Boyd, quhairin the Lord Boyds right of patronage is reduced, Sir James Clelands established, and the persone presented by him appointed to be answered conforme to his presentatione. That this decree wes past is evident from the Minute Book, and can be provin by famous witnesses yit liveing; howbeit the said decree it selfe is not to be found by us because it seimes it hes not bein extracted.

Anno 1628, Mr. Walter Whytfoord is presented Subdeane of Glasgow by the Kings Majestie, and efter long debait in anno 1630, obteanes decree conforme quhairby he is preferred to the Persone presented by Sir James Cleland, notwithstanding the said Mr Walter Whytfoord that he might put himselfe in possessione of the benefice wes forced to compone with the Prior of Blantyr, and purchase fra him his old tacks of the said teynds.

Anno 1639, Mr WalterWhytfoord dispones the said old tacks togither with quhat right he had to the Subdeanrie of Glasgow in favoris of James then Marques of Hamiltoune: Furder the said yeir the said Marques of Hamiltoune buys the forsaid barronie of Monkland with the annexed patronage of the kirkes of Calder and Monkland, quhich in effect are the Subdeanrie of Glasgow, from Lodovick Cleland eldest sone and retoured air to his father Sir James Cleland, and is accordinglie infeft in the said barronie and right of patronage the said yeir upon the 19 November, lykas the said infeftment is ratifiet and confirmed in Parliament anno 1641.

Anno 1635, my Lord Duik Hamiltoune presents Mr Gavin Hamiltoune to the kirk of Calder and to the Subdeanrie of Glasgow, quhairupon he receaves collatione and institutione, and accordinglie setts tacks of the viccarage teynds of the said parochins of Calder and Monkland, by quhich they possesse unto this day.

Anno 1647, ther is granted by the Kings Majestie unto James Duik of Hamiltoun ane confirmatione of his right of patronage to the Subdeanrie of Glasgow, togither with ane ratificatione of the old tacks, and a new tack set to him as kyndlie takisman of the teynds and others quhatsumever belonging to the Subdeanrie of Glasgow for fyve 19 yeires to begin efter the issue of the old tacks to the quhich he had acquyred a right.

All thir rights, viz. a right to the patronage of the kirkes of Monkland and Calder called the Subdeanrie of Glasgow, fra the Erle of Haddingtoune; a right to the old tacks fra the Prior of Blantyr; and ane new tack for fyve 19 yeires fra the Kings Majestie unto him as kyndlie tacksman, being centered in my Lord Duik of Hamiltoun, are by him convoyed to Duik William Hamiltoun according to his retour and infeftment, and fra him to my Lady Dutches of Hamiltoun by tailyie retour and infeftment, as ther sealed authentick rights themselves will evidence.

My Lady Dutches of Hamiltoun, with consent of her husband, now my Lord Duik of Hamiltoun, doeth sell and dispone the saids teynds of Monkland and Calder called the Subdeanrie of Glasgow, with the advocatione donatione and right of patronage of the samen unto the Universitie of Glasgow, togither with all these former rights and tacks of the saids teynds with the infeftments and the said right of patronage, and that for ane verie considerable soume of money converted be my Lady Dutches for paying the debt of her familie: which soume of money payed to my Lady Dutches wes some soumes of money long befor mortified to the Universitie, and lent out upon bands for susteining of the poor bursaris and students of theologie and philosophie in the Universitie. Lykwayes my Lady Dutches is oblidgit by band to make furthcumand to the Universitie a perfyte progres of her right to the said benefice.

The Universitie of Glasgow since the making of the said purchase have still bein in possessione of the wholl forsaid benefice, as also my Lord Duik of Hamiltoun these 24 yeires bypast peaceablie without the least molestatione: nay my Lord Duikes authoris and soe the Universitie have had by tacks peaceabill and uninterrupted possessione of the Subdeanrie since befor the yeir 1588, now above these threescoir thirtein yeirs ··· Also my Lord Duikes author was in possessione of the right of patronage of the said benefice anno 1626 and 1627, quhen he obteaned decreet contra my Lord Boyd.

My Lord Boyd wes never in possessione of the said benefice, but be the contrair his right wes found voyd and null, and ever since, these 37 yeires, my Lord Boyd hath peaceablie paid his teynds.

The Universitie hath a clear and good right to the said benefice, both to the teynds and to the right of patronage: To the right of patronage fra the Earle of Haddingtoun anno 1662, who obteaned the samen fra the Kings Majestie with consent of the titular according to law; to the teynds, first by the old tacks, and then by the Kings Majesties new tack. Lykas accordinglie they have bein in possessione, as said is, and all ther rights have bein ratified in Parliament ···

Act in favoures of the Masters of the Colledge and Hospitalls of Glasgow anent their Mortified Lands.

267. At Edinburgh the seaventeenth day of March j^m vj^c and fourscore two years. Anent the petition given in to the Lords Commissioners of his Majestie Treasury be the principall and masters of the Colledge of Glasgow the dean of gild and respective deacons of the baxters maltmen and taylyeors of the burgh in name of the poor of the hospitalls and respective incorporations therof, bearing that where the Convention of Estates, holden at Edinburgh in July j^m vj^c and seaventy eight years, did offer to his Majesty a supply of eighteen hundred thousand pound Scots to be raised and uplifted furth of the shyres and burghs of this kingdome in the space of fyve years according to the present valuations, lykas his Majesty and Estates of Parliament in August last did continue the samen simply for the space of other fyve yeares, albeit by severall acts of Parliament and the said act of Convention of Estates it is especially and expressly provyded that all rents lands and teinds belonging to Colledges Hospitalls and the poor shall be exempted and freed from any payment of such impositions and supplys, notwithstanding whereof the Collectors for the supplys for the shyre of Lanerk have quartered upon the petitioners for deficiency of not payment of the forsaid supply for the eleaven terms last bypast, as the double of the order from the Collector for quartering therefore herewith produced doeth testify: lykas the petitioners have, for clearing of the valuation of the respective lands and teinds and others belonging to the Colledges and Hospitalls and the poor abovewritten, extracted the samen under the Commissioners of assessment their hands, which is here lykways produced; Craveing therefore the saids Lords Commissioners of the Treasury to take the premisses to consideration, and to grant warrant to the tackismen or collectors of the said supply to forbear troubling of the petitioners by quartering or otherwayes and that both for bygones and lykewayes in tyme coming, and to discharge the said parties and the forsaid lands and others abovewritten from any payments of the said supply in all tyme comeing: Which petition with the certificat of the Commissioners of assessment relateing to the mortified rents belonging to the College and Hospitalls of Glasgow being be the saids Lords Commissioners of his Majesties Treasury read heard and considered, they did recommend the consideration therof to his Majesties Advocat, and that his Lordship would report his opinion whither or not such mortified rents ought to be freed from payment of their proportion of the supplie granted to his Majesty by the Convention of Estates in June and July 1678 years and in tyme coming: And in the mean tyme the saids Lords appoints Sir William Sharp and the tacksmen of the supply or their collectors to ordaine the Collector of the shyre of Lanerk to remove quartering of the partie now quartered for the supply payable out of the said shyres mortified rents untill further order: And his Majesties Advocat haveing considered the abovewrittin supplication and act of Convention and the act of Parliament to which it relates, it is his Lordship's opinion that mortified lands are clearly exempted from payeing any part of the late supply offered to his sacred Majestie, either by the act of Convention in July j^{m} vj^{c} and seaventy eight years, or by the late act of Parliament in August j^{m} vj^{c} and fourscore ane years: Which petition with the reference therupon to his Majesties Advocat and his Lordships opinion upon the whole matter being by the saids Lords Commissioners of his Majesties Treasury read heard seen and considered, they doe hereby liberat and free the lands mortified to the Colledge of Glasgow and for other pious uses as is abovementioned from payment of any part of the supplys granted to his Majesty by the Convention of Estates in the year 1678, and by the current Parliament in the year 1682, and therefore discharge all tackismen collectors and others whatsoever to quarter upon the lands so mortified for payment of such a proportion of the said supply as they might be lyable unto if not mortified; for doeing wherof thir presents shall be ane sufficient warrant to the said Collector and others and to the Generall Receiver of the said supplys for allowing of the proportion of the supplies which the lands so mortified were lyable unto before the mortificatione therof, as the same shall be attested

Act of Parliament granting to the University the Vacant Stipends of those Churches whereof the Masters are Patrons.

284. At Edinburgh, the twenty ninth day of September j^{m} vj^{c} and ninty six years. ANENT the petition given in and presented to His Majesties High Commissioner and the honourable Estates of Parliament by the Moderators of the University of Glasgow, shewing that whereas the said University doth groan under a vast burden of debt, and that the yearly rents therof are not competent to defray the annuall ordinary charge of the same, and that all the relieff the said University hath got will not be able in many years to pay the debts already contracted, and the said University being patrons of severall parishes, and haveing the teynds great and small as a part of the patrimony of the said University out of which they pay the Ministers stipends of the paroches after named, and seeing it may fall out that some of them prove vacant, and it being an undoubted pious use to dispose of those stipends when vacant for the payment of the debts and other uses of the University, and therfor craving his Grace and their Lordships the honourable Estates of Parliament to grant to the said University a gift of the said vacant stipends which are or shall fall due of the parishes of Govan, Kilbryde, Renfrew, Dalyiel, Old and New Monkland and Calder, where the University have all the tithes and pay the Ministers stipends, and of the parish of Calmonell where they have the remaining part of the tithes which is over and above the Ministers stipends: And that to endure for such time as his Grace and their Lordships should think fit as the said petition bears: Which being read in presence of and considered by his Majesties High Commissioner and the Estates of Parliament, they have granted and hereby grants the vacant stipends of these churches only wherof the University is patron and of none others, to be disposed of for the ends above represented, and that how oft the same churches shall happen to be vacant; and this gift to continue only untill the nixt Session of Parliament.

Disposition by the Minister and Session of the Barony Parish to the College of the Five Shilling Land of Dowhill called the Grassum Lands.

285. of Whitsonday j^m vij^c and twenty one inclusive, and which were not employed by reason of the vacancy of the office, the sum of six hundred pound Scots money not appropriated by us; Therefore we do appropriat and appoint the sum of two hundred and fourty-six pound seventeen shillings and six pennies thereof for reimbursing and payment of the expenses laid out in passing and procuring his Majesties said last grant to the University of the sums hereby appropriated; And the sum of two hundred and thirty-one pound twelve shillings Scots for reimbursing the charge of the gift formerly obtained in favours of Mr James Dick to be Professor of Ecclesiastick History in the said University, which did not take effect; And the remaining sum of one hundred and twenty-one pound ten shillings and six pennies to be employed for repairing, so far as it goes, the Fore Common-Hall in the College of Glasgow, at the sight of the said Principal and Dean of Faculty of the said University. And we do further appoint that in case the legall interest should fall lower than it now is whereby the produce or annualrent arising from the bygones of the sallary of the Professor of Ecclesiastick History, hereby appointed to be stocked out upon interest, may be diminished, That the defalcation and diminution that may be occasioned thereby shall fall proportionally upon the respective Professors to whom the said interest and produce is also to be appropriated. 301. This day the affair of building houses for the Masters and the proposals thereanent ··· were represented to the Dean of Faculty and ··· he for his part consented to the application of the funds ··· for the uses therein specified.

This day Mr Charles Morthland Professor of Oriental Languages did acquaint the Faculty that, according to a verbal order from them not thought proper to be minuted when it was given, [he] had purchased the few males and superioritie of the tenement of land and yeards lying betwixt the house belonging to David Rob and the New Vennal from the Laird of Bedlay, and that he had according to the Facultys direction taken the right in his own name in order to make the purchase the more easy from the said Bedlay, and that he had paid him twenty-six years purchase for the said few males and duties being fourty-four pund per annum, extending to the sum of eleven hundred and fourty-four pund Scots money, and that he had also got a Disposition to the bygonne males and few dewties unpayed extending to the sum of six hundred and twenty seven pund Scots, which he had actually paid to the said Laird at Bedlay when he got his said right ··· The Faculty approves of what the said Mr Morthland has done in this bargain with the Laird of Bedlay, and allows him to state the said sum ··· as an article of discharge in his Accounts of the Bishoprick for the year j^{m} vij^{c} and twenty one ··· And because the ground which yields the said few dewties now purchased may be a proper place for enlarging the fabrick of the College with new buildings, therefore the Faculty recommends it to the said Mr Charles Morthland to purchase the property of the said grounds as soon as possible and as easily as possible, together with David Robs yeard, and his house also if it can be got reasonably . . .
